Directory of Speakers and Consultants

The University of South Carolina Aiken annually publishes the Directory of Speakers and Consultants as a reference of faculty and staff who are available for consultation and/or speaking engagements. This guide is designed to facilitate the University's public service mission by making available to groups in the community consultation and speakers who are knowledgeable on a wide range of topics.

The guide is divided into two sections. The first section is an alphabetical listing of subject areas with the corresponding topics and names of campus experts. The second section is an alphabetical listing of our expert faculty and staff and their contact information.

To engage a consultant or speaker, you should contact the person directly, either by telephone or by e-mail, as early as possible. Arrangements for speakers are the responsibility of the sponsoring group and the speaker. The USC Aiken Office of Marketing and Community Relations may be contacted in case of an emergency at 803-641-3661.

Many of the consultants or speakers listed in this guide require reimbursement for travel outside their campus area and some speakers charge for speaking before particular groups. The question of reimbursement for travel and speaking fees should be negotiated by the speaker and the sponsoring group.

Updated information can be found on the web at: www.usca.edu/communityresources/speak0506.pdf concerning our speakers and consultants.
