Information about the Major

The Department of Sociology is currently serving nearly 160 majors as well as three minors: Sociology, Criminology and Criminal Justice, and Anthropology and Human Geography

Faculty members in the department are dedicated to offering students a curriculum with the highest possible standards. Faculty strive to prepare students with a solid theoretical background in specific course areas and to develop their applied research skills and analytical abilities. Our graduates report that the knowledge and skills acquired through their programs of study have been fundamental to their performance in their professional capacities. We are proud that they have enjoyed success in a wide variety of careers as well as in graduate and law school.
