During these trying times, we hope for a brighter Spring. It was so nice seeing several of you back on our campus and through the down-linking of our programs this past Fall. We enjoy seeing you!

Someone once said that Spring brings new growth, weeds out the bad, and makes room for something beautiful! What better way to bring in the season than by spending your time learning a new technological skill, speaking a new language, or learning about art or history.

This Spring’s catalog shows a variety of new programs -- spanning from specialized training to advance your career -- to classes that are just for the pleasure of learning.

Once again, we will be holding our classes both face-to-face and online. Please be aware of the extended rules set in place for attendance. Primarily, to make sure you wear a face covering, wash your hands often, and if you are not feeling well, please stay home to assure we keep our campus as healthy as possible. The campus is adhering to the strict guidelines of the Center for Disease Control (https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/index.html), and notifications from the Governor’s Office about the virus. Please make sure to check our website at www.USCA.edu for any up-to-date information.

Within this catalog, you will find many exciting programs being offered through our Continuing Education Department, McGrath Computer Learning Center, the Academy for Lifelong Learning, and our latest edition of offerings through the Wellness Center. There are several opportunities for attending in-class (which will be set at a 50% capacity, once again) to our many online programs (for those of you who prefer to learn virtually).

Please make sure to take note of our professional Safety Certificate series and our latest updates within our travel program— offering both short excursions and trips abroad. As you are browsing through this catalog, I am sure you will see that we do, indeed, have something for everyone! We look forward to having you join us— whether this will be your first time or if you have been in our program for several years, just know it is our pleasure having you on our campus!

“No matter how long the Winter, Spring is sure to follow”-Anonymous

Wishing You All the Best,

Karen Edgington, Director
The Office of External Programs, Continuing Education, and Conferences
We offer a wide variety of classes for those interested in exploring their artistic abilities. Develop your skills in various mediums, learn to work with a live model, and receive feedback from a highly qualified art instructor.

About the Instructor

Joseph Kameen is the instructor for the Art workshops for Continuing Education. Kameen joined the Department of Fine and Performing Arts in the Fall of 2018, as Assistant Professor of Art. Joseph received his B.F.A. in painting and sculpture from Boston University, and his M.F.A. in painting from Indiana University Bloomington. He features the human figure heavily in his drawings and paintings, which use narrative imagery to consider our everyday relationship with unanswerable questions. He has exhibited and curated nationally, including shows at The Painting Center and Janet Kurnatowski Gallery in New York.

Who We Are
We are an organization of people from a variety of backgrounds. We share a common interest in continuing learning experiences and intellectual stimulation. There are no tests or grades. Members participate purely for the joy of sharing. We are sponsored by UofSC Aiken and are self-supporting. Our courses and activities are planned and implemented by our members. We design our own curriculum and employ instructors from UofSC Aiken faculty (current and retired), from our own membership, and from the community at large.

Mission Statement
The mission of the Academy for Lifelong Learning is to provide both structured and informal continuing education opportunities for mature individuals in the CSRA in conjunction with UofSC Aiken. These opportunities shall include classroom instruction as well as discussions with faculty, field trips, and social events.

New Hybrid Course Structure
This spring, the Academy will continue their structure to accommodate social distancing protocols and to give our members the opportunity to learn from the comfort of their own homes. Our courses have the option of in-class instruction (limited enrollment) or online instruction using Microsoft Teams (real time live streaming).

Registration & Membership Fees
Membership for a semester is $70 per person. The Membership fee allows you to take as many of the classes offered, on a space-available basis. The fee does not include books or materials (if required) for the classes or the cost of special events.

Registration opens January 8, 2021 at 9:00 a.m., you may register online at aikenlearning.org, by mail, or call (803) 641 - 3741. You may also register in person at the Business & Education Bldg., Room 134 9:00-12:00 p.m. The registration form can be found on pages 19 and 20.

Masks will be required for everyone on campus, please practice social distancing when possible, and wash your hands often.

Member Benefits*
Academy members are eligible for special offers from the following places:
- UofSC Aiken Admissions Office (class auditing)
- Planetarium
- Library & Bookstore
- Wellness Center
- Natatorium
- Two Academy Guest Passes
- UofSC Aiken Athletic Events
- Campus Food Service

The Powerful Roles of Exercise and Nutrition in Illness Prevention and Health Maintenance
3 Fridays, January 15, 22, 29
9:00 – 10:00 a.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 124; IO

Instructor: Mr. Patrick Gélinas is a faculty member in the Department of Exercise and Sports Science at UofSC Aiken, where he teaches courses in Exercise Physiology, Nutrition, Fitness Assessment, and Sports Performance Coaching. He is a CrossFit Level-1 Trainer, a USA Weightlifting Sports Performance Coach, and a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist with the NSCA, and has also held certifications through the National Academy of Sports Medicine (NASM-PES), and the American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM-HFI). Prof. Gélinas’s research interests focus primarily on high-intensity fitness programming for health and performance, as well as biologically-appropriate nutritional strategies for optimal health.

Description: In this timely three-part lecture series, the powerful roles of exercise and nutrition in illness prevention and health maintenance will be discussed. Particular emphasis will be placed on the mechanistic effects of specific nutrients in the body, the benefits of exercise as they pertain to illness prevention, as well as the importance of the sickness-wellness-fitness continuum concept. Part 1 will discuss how a dedicated exercise routine maintains and promotes health, and confers protective benefits against illness & infection. In Part 2, participants will learn how to exercise at home without equipment, and be able to scale or modify movements to meet individual needs. Finally, Part 3 will focus on nutritional practices for optimizing health and illness-prevention.

A Guide to Severe Weather in the CSRA
2 Wednesdays, January 20, 27
10:00 – 11:00 a.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 124; IO

Instructor: Riley Hale is the Chief Meteorologist for WRDW/WAGT and has been in the Augusta area for over three years covering multiple tropical storms, tornadoes, and flooding events. Before moving to Augusta, he worked for WXVT in Greenville, Mississippi for two years covering historic flooding and multiple tornado outbreaks. His passion for weather started at a young age and is happy to deliver the forecast to the CSRA Monday through Friday at 4:00, 4:30, 5:00, 5:30, 6:00, 7:00, and 11:00 p.m.

Description: Have you ever wondered how severe weather forms? What type of severe weather do we see in the Central Savannah River Area? What time of year is severe weather more frequent and why? We will answer all these questions and more while making sense of the chaos in our atmosphere. We will also look back at recent severe weather events in our area and how to prepare when severe weather hits.

The Reunification of Italy 1796-1870
4 Wednesdays, January 20, 27, February 3, 10
1:00 – 2:00 p.m.
Online Only (O)

Instructor: Dr. Walt Kubilius is a geologist with an interest in history. He retired recently from SRS where he worked on problems related to environmental radionuclide contamination, and the decommissioning of nuclear reactors. Before coming to SRS, he worked as a mining geologist in Alaska, New Mexico, and Arkansas. He has taught a variety of courses at Lifelong Learning since 2011.

Description: This is one of the world’s great stories of self-determination. After being politically fragmented since the 6th century, the Italian peninsula came together once more over a 75-year period called the Risorgimento. Although the immediate benefits were small, Italy’s unification enabled it to transform from a backward state to become the 4th largest economy in Europe, and the 8th largest in the world.

Exercise Is Medicine
4 Thursdays, January 21, 28, February 4, 11
9:00 - 9:45 a.m.

More Strolls Around Mr. Irvin’s Map
3 Mondays, January 25, February 1, 8
9:30 - 10:30 a.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 124; IO

Instructors: Linda Johnson is an engineer with a life-long passion for history. As a docent with the Aiken County Historical Museum she serves as a researcher, lecturer, and tour guide. Recent lecture topics have included Aiken’s Winter Colony homes, architects, and historic churches and the first series of Irvin map strolls. She also authored a book on the history of the Aiken Tennis Club for Prince Edward.

Description: In 1933, celebrated architect Willis Irvin sketched a map showing 95 Winter Colony properties. Over three class sessions you will imagine walking parts of that map – homes along Berrie Road, on South Boundary, and near the grand Highland Park Hotel – and hear stories of the residents of that time.

The Celts: Blood, Iron, and Sacrifice
4 Mondays, January 25, February 1, 8, 15
11:00 - 12:00 p.m.
Online Only (O)

Instructor: Dr. Edward T. “Terry” Wimberley is a retired professor, policy analyst, social worker, gerontologist, though still an active clergyman. He holds a B.A. in Psychology from Stetson University, M. Div. from Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, an M.S.W. from the University of Pittsburgh Graduate School of Social Network, and a Ph.D. in Public Affairs from the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs at the University of Pittsburgh. Dr. Wimberley is the author of four books: “Handbook of International Health Care Systems,” (2001); “Nested Ecology,” (2009); ‘Ecopragmatics,” (2014); “Homegrown Ecopragmatics,” (2019) - and more than 40 professional journal articles.

Description: This course is designed to provide the learner with an opportunity to understand and appreciate the evolution and spread of Celtic culture across Europe and beyond. The course has been developed around two BBC documentaries on Celtic history. The Celts: Blood, Iron, and Sacrifice (2015) and The Celts (2001). These two films take the student through the course of Celtic history which reveals that the Celts were not so much a people bound by bloodlines, but rather were bound by shared culture and beliefs. Class sessions and topics are as follows: 1. Early Origins; 2. A Golden Age; 3. Sacred Groves and Last Stands; 4. Camelot to Christ – Legend and Reality.

Live from The Met Opera
6 Tuesdays, January 26, February 2, 9, 16, 23, March 2
10:00 – 11:00 a.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 124; IO

Instructor: Maureen Simpson has performed in over two dozen operas in the United States and Europe, as well as numerous appearances with symphonies and choral societies. She attended the Academy of Vocal Arts in Philadelphia; the American Institute of Musical Studies in Graz, Austria; and received graduate degrees from Indiana University-Bloomington and the University of South Carolina. Dr. Simpson is currently Artistic Director of the Aiken Choral Society.

Description: Dr. Simpson, Aiken’s own resident diva soprano, will discuss three operas which will be shown at the Regal Augusta Exchange Theater. The classes will introduce historical and musical background, composer issues, performing problems, and plots; both beginner and veteran opera-goers will be provided with a deeper insight into each work. The operas scheduled for this spring season’s telecasts and planned for discussion in this course are: ROMEO et JULIETTE by Charles Gounod; NABUCCO by Giuseppe Verdi; DON GIOVANNI by Mozart.

Information about the entire “Live From The Met” schedule of operas to be shown in high definition at the Regal Augusta Exchange movie theater is available online at www.metopera.org/season/in-cinemas.
Introduction to the National Problem of Unsolved Homicides/Missing Persons and Cold Cases

4 Tuesdays, January 26, February 2,9,16
1:00 - 2:00 p.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 124; IO

Instructor: Mr. James Carsten is the founder and president of Eagle Investigative Services, Inc. He is a retired U.S. Army CW2. James’ career included the U.S. Army Criminal Investigations Command as a Special Agent, Team Chief, Special Agent in Charge, and Task Force Commander. He was also in the U.S. Army Intelligence and Security Command as an Interrogator, Strategic Debrief, and Human Intelligence Collector. He is a subject matter expert in Strategic Investigative Planning, Advanced Interviewing Techniques, and Advanced Investigative Technologies. He conducted and managed criminal investigations into Person and Property Crimes, Fraud, and Counter Drug. He is also a Certified Forensic Experimental Trauma Interviewer (FETI). In 2019 he founded the Eagle Cold Case & Missing Person Institute whose mission is to facilitate the solving of uncleared homicides and the finding of missing persons.

Description: There are over 250,000 unsolved homicides across the nation (1980 – present) and approximately 600,000 persons are reported missing each year. The national problem of unsolved homicides, missing persons, and cold cases is a problem where few know the statistical information and where there is little conversation of what society can do to assist their local community and local law enforcement agencies. In this course we will explore the national and local South Carolina statistics, and what is being done about unsolved cases. Additionally, we will explore “What is a cold case?”; How does a case become “cold”; How is law enforcement structured?; What law enforcement is doing to combat the problem?; and how society can assist? If you are curious about cold cases or are ready to become part of a solution, then this course is for you.

What Does It Really Mean? Iconography and the Arts II
Tuesday, January 26
2:30-3:30 p.m.
Online Only (O)

Instructor: Dr. Sandra Jordan, the fourth Chancellor of UofSC Aiken, is a trained iconographer who has conducted research and published articles in international journals that provide a more thorough understanding of specific works of art by interpreting the symbols embedded in the piece of art and expand upon the meaning by connecting the personal, political and religious context that surrounds art creation in the Renaissance and Baroque periods. Dr. Jordan conducted extensive research in iconography following leads across Europe’s monasteries, museums, archives and libraries. Her iconographic research on Caravaggio included three months in the Vatican library. Her scholarly publications include a deeper dive into the work of Caravaggio in Counter-Reformation Rome and Tiepolo in the Veneto, as well as other artists of the Renaissance and Baroque periods.

Description: Dr. Jordan is back to speak about iconography (the study of symbols used in the arts) and how those symbols can be read to expand upon the meaning of a work, connect to the tradition of art, and stand for something that would be hard to show in a picture or a sculpture... for example, a complex religious concept or an idea. While this is the second of a two-part series on iconography, don’t worry if you missed her first talk, for she will be moving into new areas of iconography including examples of “private symbols” – where the symbol stands for an aspect of someone’s personal story, and symbols in Protestant art, which will include a look into symbolism in religious architecture.

Warfare: Tactics and Technology of War
4 Wednesdays, February 3, 10, 17, 24
10:30 - 11:30 a.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 124; IO

Instructor: Robert Anzuoni graduated from Stonehill College with a B.A. in American Studies and received his M.A. in History and Archival Methods from U. Mass Boston. He served as the Director of the 82nd Airborne Division Museum at Fort Bragg, NC, and is currently the Director of the Signal Corps Museum at Fort Gordon, GA. Mr. Anzuoni has been an adjunct history instructor for over twenty-five years, including the past twelve years at UofSC Aiken. He is a veteran of the U.S. Army 82nd Airborne Division and has written two books about that unit.

Description: This course is about the history of the tactics and technology used in warfare throughout the ages. The first session deals with the use of chariots on the battlefield, including the earliest military campaign for which a detailed account exists – the Battle of Kadesh (1274 BCE). The session will continue with the military developments of the Greek, Macedonian, Roman, and Chinese cultures. The second session will cover the development of heavy cavalry, which dominated battlefields beginning with the Battle of Adrianople in 378. This continued for over a thousand years, until the development of mounted archers, the longbow, and artillery, operating in coordination with infantry. The third session will cover the rise of gunpowder weapons from 1453 to the American Revolution. The fourth session will deal with industrial and technological based warfare from the American Civil War through the World Wars and up to the Gulf War. The fourth session, and the course, will conclude with brief discussions of the use of terrorism/counterterrorism, weapons of mass destruction, and information warfare.

The History of the American Revolutionary War in the Central Savannah River Area
4 Thursdays, February 4, 11, 18, 25
11:30 - 12:30 p.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 124;

Session 4: Fieldtrip Edgefield Discovery Center 405 Main St., Edgefield & Horns Creek Church Museum; IO

Instructor: William “Billy” Morgan Benton, a 6th generation Virginian, is from a small equestrian community called Middleburg, VA. He and Jane Gunnell, also from Middleburg, moved to Aiken 25 years ago with 17 of their horses. They have been involved in saving the endangered, primitive Carolina Dogs who are now treasured pets and championship show dogs around the world. Billy & Jane are equestrian hunters who have taken part in hunts here and in Virginia. On the Thanksgiving Day Opening Meet in 2011, Billy was honored with his Colors for his support and ability with the Aiken Hounds. Additionally, he is a polo player and announcer, having played from Palm Beach to Jackson Hole, WY, and at his farm in Middleburg. He has served as a Patrol Judge at various steeplechase races and has been Chief Steward at the Colonial Cup in Charlotte for years. For 10 years he was President of the Edgefield County Historical Society whose members are writing the History of the South Carolina Upcountry during the American Revolution. Billy is the Owner/Broker of Fox & Hound Realty.

Description: The history of the American Revolution Southern Theater has been overlooked and under reported by historians. In this class, we will develop a better understanding of those times by focusing on three individuals who have been written about and who have left extensive written accounts of their lives. 1) George Galphin, Indian Commissioner operating from his Strong House at Silver Bluff on the Savannah River was called the “merchant prince of the Georgia forest.” 2) Colonel Thomas “Burnfoot” Brown was a British Loyalist during the American Revolution. He lived a turbulent and combative career, as a Colonel leading the Kings Rangers, employed Native Americans, with Tory militia to terrorize the patriots for his king and country. 3) General Henry “Light-Horse Harry” Lee, father of confederate General Robert E. Lee, commander of Lee’s Legion with 400 mounted Continental troops captures Col. “Burnfoot” Brown after the siege of Augusta. How these three men interacted, with Brown capturing Galphin who subsequently died during this period, Lee then accepting Brown’s surrender, offers a fascinating historical account of this region’s past.

The fieldtrip will include a $15 lunch fee.
Studio to Stage - Ballet
4 Fridays, February 5, 12, 19, 26
10:30 - 11:45 a.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 124; IO

Instructor: Professional dancers, Joy and Jeffrey Engel, trained in Russian Classical Ballet, met in a studio in New York City and honeymooned on an Equity Summer Stock Tour of “Carousel.” Their performing careers included dancing in the United States, Canada, and Europe. They have also choreographed productions and taught dance in various studios, schools and colleges.

Description: Join professional dancers Joy and Jeffrey Engel for their eighth year of sharing their experiences and insights into the world of ballet. Through videos, you’ll have an insider’s view into the life of a dancer – beginning with training classes in the studio, progressing through competitions and auditions, and leading to a career in dance. We will also explore the difficult and challenging life of a professional dancer, with videos or rehearsals and performances onstage. Of course, this year the COVID 19 pandemic has added another challenge in the progression of the dancer from “studio to stage.”

Famous Aiken Winter Colony Visitors You’ve Never Heard Of Wednesday, February 17
1:00 – 2:00 p.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 124; IO

Instructor: David M. Tavernier is the author of two books on Aiken’s Winter Colony. His first book, Stories of the Rich and Famous: Aiken’s Winter Colony in the Gilded Age, was selected as the Featured Book for “In Author’s Words.” His second book, More Stories of the Rich and Famous: Aiken’s Winter Colony in the Gilded Age, was nominated for the 2015 EVVY Award in the category of historical fiction by the Colorado Independent Publisher’s Association. He has been a guest speaker on the topic of Aiken’s winter colony at the Aiken Historical Society, the Aiken County Historical Museum’s Winter Lecture Series, and numerous clubs and organizations in Aiken and other areas of the state. Mr. Tavernier is a graduate of Florida Atlantic University, where he received his B.A. degree. He resides in Aiken and is married to third generation Aikenite, Patrice Durban Tavernier.

Description: While many winter colony visitors were nationally and internationally known for their wealth and business associations, there were others who were famous in their fields of endeavor, philanthropy, and leisure pursuits, and who also possessed great wealth. The class will profile a number of those individuals, and their connection with Aiken during the winter colony years.

A Brief Tour of Non-Western Philosophies & Philosophers
4 Thursdays, February 18, 25, March 4, 11
9:00 - 10:00 a.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 124; IO

Instructor: Thomas Burrus holds an M.A. in philosophy from the University of Houston, and has taught philosophy at UofSC Aiken since Spring of 2012.

Description: Session one on prolegomena; session two will focus on Islamic philosophy (centering on Ibn Rusd); session three will cover Indian philosophy (Nagarjuna or Adi Shankaracharya), and session four on Chinese philosophy.
Academy for Lifelong Learning

Line Dancing

6 Mondays, February 22, March 1,8,15,22,29
11:00 – 12:00 p.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 147; IO

Instructor: Brenda Taylor is a lifetime resident of Aiken, SC and a 1970 graduate of Aiken High School. Brenda has been a business owner and registered Cosmetologist in Aiken for 50 years and is now semi-retired. She is an active lifetime member and past president of CSRA Shag Club Aiken-Augusta areas. She is a line dance and Carolina shag instructor. She has been a member of SOS in North Myrtle Beach, SC for over 30 years. She teaches three times a week in the Aiken area and also teaches and attends club events all over the South. She has taught line dance classes through the years at UofSC Aiken, Hotel Aiken, Aiken Shrine Club, SOS 7-day cruises, Palmetto Shag Club in Columbia, SC, and TBs Shack on the Water, Lake Murray, SC. Brenda’s parents were jitter bug dancers so she feels like rhythm and dancing came to her naturally!

Description: Lessons will begin with basic steps, broken down and taught slowly for beginners and progress to more intermediate dances. A new dance will be taught each week and dances learned in previous weeks will be reviewed. Line dancing is a choreographed dance with a repeated sequence of steps in which a group of people dance in one or more lines or rows without regard for partnering, all executing the steps at the same time. Line dancing provides good exercise and is great for the heart and brain as well as a wonderful way to meet new friends. Come out and join the fun.

Environmental Impact of the Savannah River Site

3 Wednesdays, March 3,10,17
3:00 – 4:00 p.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 124; IO

SRS and the Environment — The Savannah River Site (SRS) has supported the defense of the nation for 70 years. The myriad missions at the site are well documented but less is known about the stewardship of the environment at the site. In this 3 part class, attendees will learn about environmental monitoring efforts, past and present ecological studies at the site and examples of environmental cleanup technologies that have been developed and used at SRS and around the world.

Class 1: The SRS Environmental Monitoring Program – this class provides an overview of the environmental monitoring activities that occur at the site and across the CSRA including recent results of these studies and historical data.

Tim Jannik is a Fellow Technical Advisor at the Savannah River National Laboratory (SRNL). He has over 40 years of experience in the nuclear industry, 31 of which have been at the Savannah River Site. Mr. Jannik is the technical lead of the Environmental Dosimetry Group at SRNL and he specializes in 1) environmental dosimetry and radioecology, 2) effluent monitoring and environmental surveillance, and 3) human health risk analyses. Mr. Jannik is the subject matter expert for the Savannah River Site (SRS) in the field’s of environmental radiation, effluent monitoring, and environmental surveillance and has taught a Health Physics Society Professional Development course on Environmental Sampling and Analysis. Tim has been a member of the Citizens for Nuclear Technology Awareness (CNTA) organization since its inception.

Class 2: Ecology at SRS – this class provides a historical review of ecology work at the site from the pioneering work of Dr. Eugene Odum and Dr. Ruth Patrick to current research efforts and outreach initiatives.

Dr. Olin Rhodes joined the Savannah River Ecology Laboratory in January of 2012 after spending two years with the U.S. Department of Agriculture and 15 years as a professor at Purdue University. Currently, Dr. Rhodes is the Director of the University of Georgia’s Savannah River Ecology Laboratory and a Georgia Athletic Association Professor of Applied Ecology in the Odum School of Ecology. He received his Ph.D. from Texas Tech University and his MS from Clemson University. Dr. Rhodes areas of research include wildlife ecology and genetics, human wildlife conflict, ecological aspects of zoonotic diseases, and studies of the physiological effects of low dose radiation on organisms.

Class 3: Environmental Science and Technology – the Savannah River National Laboratory has been at the forefront in the development of environmental remediation and cleanup technologies. These efforts have facilitated the stewardship of the environment at SRS as well as supporting environmental cleanup needs around the world.

Dr. Brian B. Looney is a senior research engineer at the Department of Energy Savannah River National Laboratory (SRNL) in Aiken, SC and an adjunct professor in the Environmental Engineering Science Department at Clemson University. Dr. Looney coordinates development and deployment of innovative environmental characterization and clean up methods at the Savannah River Site, and serves as a technical advisor supporting the DOE Environmental Management and Legacy Management Programs at the national scale. Over the past 40 years Dr. Looney has evaluated and developed techniques to improve monitoring, characterization, and remediation of organic compounds, heavy metals, and radionuclides in various environmental compartments and holds nine patents in the field of environmental characterization, monitoring, and remediation.

Little Known Stories of the American Revolution

4 Wednesdays, March 3,10,17,24
10:30 – 11:30 a.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 124; IO

Instructor: Mr. John Karras is a University of Toledo graduate, and has taught at Harper College in Illinois. He has held executive positions at three of the Fortune 500 corporations before founding an international corporation, leading to many years of international travel. Mr. Karras’ interest in history, since childhood, played an important part in his intellectual life throughout his business career. He is now retired and living in Aiken.

Description: This course will include stories of people and events that are not generally known about our American Revolution.

Session 1: “The American Revolution in South Carolina;”
Session 2: “America’s First Civil War;”
Session 3: “Loyalist Impact in the Founding of Canada;”
Session 4: “Traitors to the Cause.”
Academy for Lifelong Learning

Savannah River Site History
4 Thursdays, March 4, 11, 18, 25
11:00 - 12:00 p.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Sessions 1-3: Room 124
Session 4: SRS Museum; IO

Instructors: This is a collaborative effort between Site employees and the Foundation, including: Mr. Art Osborne, Mr. P.J. Perea, Ms. Melissa Hanson, Mr. Walt Joseph.

Mr. Osborne graduated from NC State and Appalachian State University with a degree in Chemistry. He joined DuPont in 1965 at the Martinsville, VA Nylon Plant. In 1977, he accepted a transfer to SRS, retiring in 2001. His career at SRS included managing assignments in quality assurance, and working in engineering, SRNL lab operations, and organizational improvement. Mr. Perea is the Director of Public Relations and Outreach for the University of Georgia Savannah River Ecology Laboratory (UGA SREL). He has a Master’s degree in Fish and Wildlife Management and a bachelor’s degree in Ecology, Ethology, and Evolution. He was a former director of the NWTF Winchester Museum and Outdoor Education Center. Ms. Hanson, a native Aikenite, has worked for New South Associates at the Curation Facility on SRS since 2013. She received the B.A. in History from UofSC Aiken, and has been in the museum field for 10 years. Walt Joseph retired after over 39 years as an engineer and manager at SRS. He is co-founder and executive director of the SRS Heritage Foundation, the lead organization that developed the SR Museum in downtown Aiken.

Description: The first session of this course will outline the history of the Savannah River Site including the Cold War military buildup and the mission of SRS in that buildup. The second session will explore the history of the Savannah River Ecology Lab (SREL) and many of the interesting discoveries researchers have made in and around SRS. This session will cover SREL’s origins on Site in 1951 to the present, and include what researchers are doing today in the world of ecology. The third session will focus on the implementation of the Department of Energy’s Cold War Historic Preservation Program at SRS. The site’s Curation Facility is an environmentally controlled warehouse where historic artifacts are collected, cataloged, and preserved. Most of these items have been recovered from obsolete site facilities as they have been decommissioned and dismantled. The fourth and final session will provide an optional private tour of the SRS Museum and discuss efforts to share the history of SRS to the general public — a partnership with the Curation Facility and the Aiken County Historical Museum. This will occur at the SRS Museum located in the former Dibble Memorial Library on Laurens Street.

NOTE: The museum can accommodate approximately 30 people at a time for a private tour. Should 60 enroll, there will be two tour sessions on March 25th 10 a.m. – 11 a.m., and 1 p.m. – 2 p.m.

Great Plants for Growing
In Your Southern Gardens
Tuesday, March 9
10:00 - 11:00 a.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 124; IO

Instructor: Ms. Gloria Wade, is a retired Culinary Arts teacher, Aiken County. She is an Aiken Master Gardener, Lead for Aiken Farmers Agribusiness Association, Aiken High FFA, and a born and raised southern farm girl.

Description: This presentation includes pictures of colorful plants that grow very well in our area. Most of the plants we will discuss are hardy here in zone 8a, and will grow in our heat and humidity. We will discuss and answer questions about the plants we view.

Geology: No Vestige of a Beginning
No Prospect of an End
4 Wednesdays, March 17, 24, 31, April 7
9:00 - 10:00 a.m.
Online Only (O)

Instructor: Allen J. Dennis, Professor of Geology, has taught at UofSC Aiken since 1988. He was recognized by the USC Board of Trustees as a Carolina Trustee Professor in 2010; he has held the SCANA Chair in Physical Sciences at UofSC Aiken since 2005. Most of Dr. Dennis’ research has focused on the Appalachian geology of the Carolinas and Georgia, and he has also conducted projects in the Pennsylvania Valley and Ridge, the California Coast Ranges, and the Swat Valley of northwest Pakistan.

Description: Dating Methods in Geology: Advances in dating events in Earth history have transformed our understanding. We will review fundamentals that have been understood for two centuries, and apply some modern techniques to solve problems that we couldn’t formulate meaningful questions to twenty years ago. The Geologic Time Scale and Earth History: Constructing the geologic time scale has been a premier achievement in the sciences. We will begin to understand the time scale and the major events it records. What’s Important to Know about the Geology of the Appalachins: No matter where we are in the Carolinas or Georgia the Appalachians are no more than a mile away. We have gained fundamental insights into the history of this mountain belt from our studies in South Carolina. The Anthropocene: Humans are a geologic force. Events in Earth history are viewed through their effects on the atmosphere, biosphere, and tectosphere; human effects can be discerned in each of these spheres. When did the Anthropocene begin? How can human effects be mitigated or ameliorated?
Age and the Brain

4 Thursdays, March 18, 25, April 1, 8
2:00 - 3:00 p.m.
Online Only (O)

Instructor: Dr. David Andrews is a former college professor. For the last 15 years he has been actively working as a patient advisor/advocate in health care including more than 10 years at Medical College of Georgia (now Augusta University). He has conducted training for many other hospitals and clinics on ways to improve quality and better engage patients and families. He has also been involved for over eight years with many state, regional, and national organizations working to improve health care.

Description: This course will be a further exploration of Professor Andrews’ previous course that asked the following questions: How have you changed as you became older? What works better, worse, or different? How does change in your nervous system contribute to the changes you observe? What causes those changes to your brain and nervous system? What can you do to keep your brain and nervous system working optimally for as long as possible? These, and other issues will be examined during this class to try to keep you young of brain.

Mindfulness Based Cognitive Therapy

6 Tuesdays, March 30, April 6, 13, 20, 27, May 4
1:30-2:45 p.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 124; IO

Instructor: Doris Hammond Ph.D. has been an instructor since the beginning of the Academy. Her academic degrees are from the University of Cincinnati, Marshall University and the University of Georgia. She has been a professor of psychology and gerontology. In 1992, she started a private practice as a therapist in Aiken. Hammond continues to practice part-time. Her most recent honor is the Earl Kauffman Award presented to her in April 2018 by the Academy of Lifelong Learning.

Description: Cognitive Behavior Therapy works with Mindfulness as a strong way of changing your thinking habits and enhancing your ability to live the life you want to live. Most of us do not realize the strength we have to change our thoughts in a positive way. This will be a fun course that teaches you skills that will change your life.

Introduction to Ikebana: The Art of Japanese Flower Arrangements

Friday, April 2
10:00 – 11:30 a.m.
Business & Education Bldg., Room 124; IO

Instructor: Pam Kolb majored in Ornamental Horticulture and Botany at Clemson University before completing a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology at Seattle University. Over the next 32 years she worked at Seattle’s Fred Hutchinson Cancer Institute, University of Washington, and Lifespan Biosciences as a Research Biologist until her retirement from the University of Washington in 2002. She has been studying Ikebana for fifteen years and enjoys using her own materials in her arrangements. Pam is currently President of the Augusta Rose Society and Vice President of the Orchid Society of Aiken and Augusta. She is also a member of Green Gardener’s Garden Club, Aiken Camellia Club, Ikebana International Chapter 81 Augusta, Blue Ridge Ikenobo Ikebana Society, Hendersonville, NC, and the South Carolina Orchid Society. She enjoys talking about plants!

Description: Pam will give a brief history of Ikebana and demonstrate the fundamental “rules” of classic Ikebana styles by building an arrangement with materials from her garden and greenhouse. She will present a PowerPoint presentation of photos taken at two major Kyoto Ikebana School exhibits during their 2019 Cherry Blossom Festival.
Tales of Old Edgefield

4 Mondays, April 5, 12, 19, 26
11:00 – 12:00 p.m.
Online Only (O)

Instructor: Alexia Jones Helsley, a native of Kentucky, grew up in Beaufort, SC. Retired from the South Carolina Department of Archives and History. Helsley is an instructor in UofSC Aiken's History Department. She teaches World History Survey classes, the History of the Vikings, the Formation of Europe as well as the History of South Carolina and an Introduction to Public History. A Furman University graduate, she has her master’s degree in Ancient and Medieval History from the University of South Carolina. Recipient of the South Carolina Governor’s Archives Award, Helsley is a prolific writer and serves as chair of the South Carolina Old Exchange Commission.

Description: This course will present some of the colorful personalities and events that make Edgefield a special place.

An American Family’s Experience: One Year in the Desert of Saudi Arabia

Wednesday, April 14
3:00-4:00 p.m.
Online Only (O)

Instructor: Dr. Kay Hanson is an Associate Professor at the School of Education at UofSC Aiken where she teaches Special Education classes. Her greatest passion is travel and she has been fortunate to experience wonderful adventures in far-away places, including spending a year living in Saudi Arabia.

Description: In the 1980s, Dr. Hanson lived for a year in Saudi Arabia with her husband and two young sons. The life she lived there was unique because it was, for the Saudi people, a transition period between the old ways and the modern world. At that time that location was considered the #2 hardship location in the world for Americans. She lived in the middle of the desert with no telephone, roads, sidewalks, or bus service. In this presentation, she will describe her experiences teaching English to Arab women and girls, the triple sandstorms that hit her home, the bugs, the heat, and the passion she found in collecting pre-oil jewelry at the old souks in a town Laurence of Arabia once used as his headquarters.

UofSC Aiken Nursing School Students Present “Promoting Quality Health for the Elderly”

Monday, April 19
2:00 – 5:00 p.m.
Online Only (O)

Instructor: Carolyn Sue-Ling Ph.D. (Philosophy of Nursing from The Catholic University of America) along with the UofSC Aiken 3rd and 4th-year Nursing Students. Dr. Sue-Ling is a native of North Carolina who discovered her love for teaching nursing in 1988. She was a clinical instructor at UofSC Aiken from 1989 until 1996. In 2012, she returned to UofSC Aiken as an instructor of Nursing, and currently teaches NURS 417 Gerontological Nursing and NURS 307 Health Assessment Lab. She has previously taught NURS 419/421 as a clinical instructor.

Description: This course is an opportunity to sit in on students’ presentations of health promotion projects to communicate health issues and quality health associated with aging. Each student group completes these projects as an assignment for the UofSC Aiken Gerontological Nursing course. The teaching project’s objective is to cover the most recent research on a topic selected by each student group, but the presentations are prepared for the general public and for patients, not medical professionals.

Each group presentation includes talks accompanied by PowerPoint-type slides, a pamphlet handout prepared by the presenters, engaging activities, and an opportunity for questions.

This nursing course explores theories of human development and the achievement and maintenance of healthy lifestyles of seniors. Topics covered in these presentations from past semesters have included: the respiratory system, gastrointestinal system, neurological system, and cardiac issues.

Since this Academy course involves “sitting in” on a regular UofSC Aiken academic course session, it will be important to arrive on time. The academic course session lasts nearly three hours. However, there will be a brief break between presentations (these will provide an opportunity to leave for those unable to stay for all of the presentations).

Instructing Team Lead: Lynn Mullins

Winter: 2 Wednesdays, January 20 & 27

Spring: 2 Wednesdays, March 10 & 17

9:00 - 11:00 a.m.

$34

This course covers the use of the computer keyboard. Learn to personalize your Word document by familiarizing yourself with the "ribbon" menu. Find out how to add, delete, move, copy and paste text. Use highlighting and keyboard shortcuts to format text, such as changing font size, color and alignment.

PC 102: Use Your PC More Effectively

Instructing Team Lead: George Heh

Winter: 4 Mondays, January 25, February 1, 8, 15

Spring: 4 Mondays, March 8, 15, 22, 29

9:00 - 11:00 a.m.

$50

For those who know a little about computers, this class introduces students to Microsoft Wordpad editing functions, managing files and folders, and takes you on a tour of the Internet. This course also gives them an introduction to email and its features and shows them how to personalize their computers. Prerequisite: familiarity with basic operation of a Windows computer, including keyboard and mouse.

Advanced Courses

Virtual Private Networks
Instructing Team Lead: Bob Hood
Winter: Tuesday, January 19
9:00 - 11:00 a.m.
$25

Staying home is the most effective way to protect yourself during the COVID-19 pandemic. That can mean lots more time online. There’s no better tool for securing that crucial internet connection to the outside world than a Virtual Private Network (VPN). A VPN adds a layer of protection to your online activities by building an encrypted wall between your traffic and anyone who tries to spy on you. VPNs are great for when you’re out and about, using Wi-Fi networks that aren’t yours. In this course we will examine when to use (or not use) a VPN, how to pick the right provider, how to set it up, and how to protect yourself, your data.

Learn leadership skills that will help you succeed as a manager in the IT field by exploring different decision-making techniques. This course focuses on developing a successful leadership style that facilitates team building, collaboration, and a corporate culture that promotes success.

SSCP Systems Security Certified Practitioner
* $1,595 - 80 Course Hours/6 months
This course is an ideal course for individuals interested in advancing their knowledge of information and systems security.

VMware Certified Associate
* $2,195 - 40 Course Hours/6 months
This foundational course prepares students to administer a vSphere infrastructure for an organization of any size and prepares students for the VMWare Certified Associate (VCA) 1V0-701 exam.
The demand for trained legal professionals has never been higher. Major corporations, healthcare facilities, insurance companies, government agencies and law offices all employ our students. The U.S. Department of Labor projects an 18% rise for legal support personnel in the profession by 2026.

100% ONLINE
Registered students have 24/7 access while class is in session. Visit our website for detailed course information including available formats, syllabi, schedules and textbooks.

FLEXIBLE FORMATS
The Center for Legal Studies understands the constraints that face today’s adult students. Free time is scarce and busy people need options. Our curriculum is available in instructor-led online, and Independent Study (Text Only) Formats. Online students are able to log on anytime anywhere to complete weekly assignments, tests and quizzes.

THE CENTER FOR LEGAL STUDIES
We offer a variety of horse-related classes, 24 to be exact. You may begin the course(s) at any point in the month; take one course or several at a time. The completion deadline is one year from the registration date of each individual course.

Choose the areas of study you are most interested in and gain confidence around your horses, equine facilities, and anything equine. These courses will be the building blocks on which you can begin an equine career.

All courses are priced at $275 each. Upon successful completion you will receive a Certificate from UofSC Aiken. After completing any six courses you will be granted a “Horse Smart” certificate from UofSC Aiken.

Once you have received the “Horse Smart” certificate, you may take as many other courses as you like for a discounted price of $250 each. All courses require internet access and the ability to upload videos.

To register, visit https://www.usca.edu/epcec/continuing-education/equestrian-online-courses or call (803) 641-3741
